

FLAMINGO L-shaped Sofa

There is no need to be oversized: Flamingo is comfortable with restrained and well-balanced proportions. The designer affirms to have focused on details: then the sofa linear quality is broken up by the distinctive 'sweeping arc' seam to at the front of the armrest, the aluminum alloy legs are slightly inset from the sides which communicate a sense of lightness, the padded parts feature established seating places, while the backrest and armrests are formed by one single piece of the same height, interrupted by cushions in different sizes.
